Excerpt from Agricultural Extension: As Related to Business Interests, Something of Its Meaning, the Forces Engaged in the Work, and of the Results Obtained

An intelligent self-interest prompts the manufacturers of agricultural implements and farm operating equipment of the United States, organized in the National Implement & Vehicle Association, to present to the business interests of the country in this little booklet, the interdependent relation between those business interests and the agricultural workers, in the hope that as a result thereof something of the same self-interest may arouse other business organizations to a desire to co-operate with the Agricultural Extension forces of the federal and state governments.
