The Word Thief James S Martinez

The Word Thief is the story of a grandmother teaching her grandson about dementia and alzheimer's disease. It does this in a fanciful way and puts it in the context of her words being stolen. It empowers the grandson and helps him understand that changes will come and that no matter what, that the love she has for him will never disappear and that by looking with his heart, he will always see her there. It is from the award-winning team at Helping Tales Publishers. Their motto is "Helping those in need, One story at a time.
